IN MIDDLE TENNESSEE

BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee gave $1.1 million to charitable organizations and programs in Middle Tennessee in 2017, part of $10.7 million in grants and support from the Health Foundation and Community Trust, as well as corporate giving, to initiatives across the state.

Examples of recent investments in Middle Tennessee include:

- $158,000 to the Clarksville Rotary Club for the construction of an accessible baseball field
- $105,000 to support Journey to Health, a six-week health and nutrition course at Faith Family Medical Center in Nashville
- $100,000 to the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum in Nashville
- $100,000 to the National Museum of African American Music in Nashville
- $50,000 for the Be Well at NPL program, offering free wellness courses at branches of the Nashville Public Library
- $50,000 to Rocketown, a youth outreach center for children in grades 7-12
- $40,000 to Howard's Hope in Murfreesboro, providing free swimming lessons to disadvantaged children

Beyond financial support, more than 200 BlueCross employees participated in 18 volunteer opportunities across Middle Tennessee, giving 570 hours with an equivalent value of nearly $15,000 to serve their local communities.
